

COUVREUR WHISKY PALE SINGLE SINGLE

PRODUIT

The Pale Single Single is a Single Malt from the northeast of Scotland aged in a single cask for over 12 years. Pale Single Single is actually the combination of a Single Malt and a Single Cask. The aim of this aging is to bring finesse, roundness, and richness to a whisky of exceptional maturity without the woody and tannic approach. The profile of this single malt bottled at 45% is floral, delicate, and fresh. It develops aromas of fresh wheat, fruit, anise, and liquorice on the palate, providing a slight bitterness. The finish offers a more iodized and saline touch. This whisky, aged exclusively in dry Sherry barrels, is both lively and incredibly delicate.
