

HERMITAGE "LA MAISON BLEUE"

PRODUIT

Paul Jaboulet Aîné's Hermitage « La Maison Bleue » is an iconic cuvée from the northern Rhône Valley, produced in the deep, limestone terroirs east of the famous Hermitage hill. The vines, planted between 1955 and 1994, are rooted in soils composed of colluvium and river terraces from the Rhône, rich in limestone, giving the Syrah a refined and powerful expression. This wine reveals an intense nose of blackberry, black cherry, licorice, black pepper, and cedar, with a beautiful aromatic complexity. The attack is ample and velvety, supported by fine tannins and a mineral freshness that elegantly extends the finish. Deep and structured, « La Maison Bleue » embodies the soul of the Hermitage terroir and is ideal for aging, pairing perfectly with red meats, game, and dishes in sauce.
